

Dorothy Parker

Dorothy Parker grew up livin' in the big A
And bein' a fashion writer's what paved the way
For when she went on to become one of poetry's
Very best writers, she wrote short stories
And book reviews for different magazines
Her name appeared on all sorts of different things
She wrote Death and Taxes and Enough Rope
So many different rhymes, every one of them was dope
She was well known for her sarcasm and wit
And if she wrote to music, every song would be a hit
You ask what this rap's got to do with us
Well yo, our group's goin' for the big A plus
And if you ask me, Did I write this rhyme? Well of course see Cause I'm a poet too, just like Dorothy
Parker that is, and now our group's gonna do its thang
So y'all just sit back and enjoy
One Perfect Rose.
